“ Ugh! My heart just hurts over this. I don't think i'll ever not be in shock over this loss. I feel like we were robbed of many more years with you cousin. Heck this was the year you were finally going to get me at the renassiance festival. Your pranks are lengdary and I wish you would have got me. Well its up to cousin Nancy(your sister) to carry on the tradition and make sure I get all kinds of public humiliation. Haha you would have wanted it that way.

I've never rode on the back of a motorcycle and you gave me my first ride. It was so much fun. I now know why people love to ride so much. Never felt more free than in that moment. I also realised Michigan roads are trash. I know i was never spoosed to tell the misses, but Kathy we went real fast on the highway. Up in the triple digits, but alvin kept me safe and showed me how much fun riding is. I'll never not see or ride on a motorcycle and not think of you cousin.

I have to say this renassiance festival is a sepcial, magical place thanks to you and Nancy. You guys showed me how much fun that place is. There is nothing like dressing up in my renfest clothes and being transported to another place. I loved linking up with you guys and discovering new shops and places I didnt see last time. Whenever i was trying to find something to buy you would take me to the perfect shop. You introduced me and my sisters to the queen. For my dad you told him which pub to walk up to and tell them that the queen said they had the finest ale in the land. The guy jumped on the counter and yelled real loud "hear'he hear'he the queen said i have the finest ale in the land" (ps i don't type in old English, but y'all get the point) funniest moment for my dad.

I'll find your spirit in all the little things i do and see. You'll never be forgotten cousin. I wish we had more time. In the last couple of years my mom(Terrie) really got the family together for that im thankful. I don't wanna miss out on knowing family. The Allen genetics run deep throughout this family. I'll pray our anger over losing you doesn't blind us from seeing how important every little moment is. Love you Fam. Until we see each other again!

Love Rachel aka the cousin you fondly called brat or sweet pea

“ My heart is broken over the loss of my cousin Alvin. You see within less than a week we have buried two family members. We just seen him the Friday before his passing and before that at my mom's birthday. Alvin even brought over his Trike to take my mom for a ride for her 80th birthday. He even gave my Rachel a ride who has never been on a bike before that day. You see that is Alvin - always thinking of others. Especially when it came to family. It was such a great day - He even put on a silly mask to wear (see pics if you can) - which is soooo like Alvin just to get a laugh. My mom said she couldn't believe he wore that dam thing for the whole ride. Yeah that is Alvin always making people laugh. I will miss the time he took with my military twins on the phone at family gatherings. They loved talking to him because they never had to explain what they were talking about to him because as a military man he knew what they were saying. With my oldest Alisha, when he heard she was making essential oils - he went out and bought her a book at the renaissance festival just so she could write down her recipes in it. That was our cousin Alvin! Always thinking of everyone else. I will miss your bear hugs the most. Those are just a glimpse of some of the memories I will always cherish about my cousin Alvin. You will be truly missed cousin. So until I meet you on the other side - stay out of trouble if you can and keep on laughing. With all my love that a broken heart can give...

“ I remember when we at Regina daughters wedding and the setting card for Wayne and I said Cathleen and Pete. Al was calling him Pete and we laughed so hard I almost had a accident. After that night Wayne was always known as Pete, and we still call him Pete to this day. I call him Pete also.

“ I have so many wonderful memories of my cousin, it's impossible to just pick one. So I'll just steal a line from Bob Hope and say "thanks for the memories". Hugs for his family, and I'm missing you.

“ My deepest condolences to the family. Alvin, "Chipmunk" always had a way of making us all laugh. He will truly be missed. He told me one day. A day he knew I was stressed out. He said, remember to always be able to laugh at yourself and don't bother to sweat over the small stuff. I said, "oh sure easier said than done". Then I laughed. He said, see your half way there. Some pretty simple words and yet it made my day.

“ One of my greatest memories of him was when he would pick me up from school every now and then. We would go to Brayz because that was our spot and he loved the greasy burgers with all the onions (even though they didn't like him so much)! And when we would get back to the house it was right to the garage to work on whatever project we had going ❤️ Wonderful memories of an even more wonderful man!
