“ We lived across the street from Denver and family and they were a big part of our lives. My deepest sympathy David. I'll never forget the time your dad loaned me his car and I damaged it. I was so scared he would be mad at me. He just said it's OK it happens, no big deal. Hugs to all.

“ Denver was an easy person to talk with, he loved to chat about his family and all they had accomplished and the futures they were planning. Denver always had time to stop and say Hello if he saw you in your yard, he was fair man always careful about details. We will miss him. Denver will remain in our hearts forever. But I know he is at peace 💕*

*David & Susan,
My deepest sympathy. I miss the conversations i had with Denver. There is a fence post out there somewhere with a lot of information/stories. He always started the conversation with " between me, you, and the fence post"*
