“ Looking back almost 2 years since he passed I have so many fond memories of my Uncle Doug. I loved visiting 'Grandma's' house when I knew Uncle Doug would be there. That meant we got to listen to Doug and my dad, Marvin, argue about politics, labor unions, the declining quality of the American automobile in the 1980's and any other subject that came up. Those were wonderful times! Grandpa Doug would sit in his seat and just wisely shake his head. Although Uncle Doug was a character I cannot ever recall his saying an unkind word about anybody. He was funny, gregarious, outgoing, but above all, Doug was kind - something we could all learn to do better. From what I've heard Doug lived a colorful life, but I know he finished his race well. Doug left behind a testimony of a godly life and godly children. I am so thankful having had Doug as my uncle, but it comforts me knowing that Doug is with God waiting for the family to finally be reunited forever. Until then Uncle Doug will live lovingly in our hearts

“ Doug was whom I referred to as "Dougy" . He was a very close friend for many years . Doug always believed in the better of people and society. He fought for everything he believed to be in the true American values and spirit. He always stood his ground.

As for personal, we could banter back and forth until the sun went down !! (mostly I won) as if it was a competition! okay, he won a few times! LOL! I will miss this so much. Just two weeks before this news, we messaged each other. It was, as always, the same free spirited Dougy! I Love him and always will.

As for humanity, he treated people in the respect that our "new world" is trying to teach now . Basically "do unto others as you would have done unto you" philosophy .

I cannot say enough good words about him. In a short story, he taught me everything as if a "long story". This is in part, due to our camaraderie, which lived on for 10 years!

I say also .....in my lifetime, I've known very FEW people who have not only taught me a bit of true wisdom, but showed it in every aspect. He was a "true" friend. Seldom in our lives, do we come across a true "hero"....a TRUE friend....in every aspect of the word.

I will go on, as hard as it is, without my friend. However, I MUST always remind myself of how he touched my life in a divine way. And when it comes to "bantering"? I am not sure anyone can come close to ours.

Dougy was (what they say) a ONE in a million heart filled person.

All I can say now, is that I only wish and pray one comes across someone like him.

Love you so much (as you are in Heaven) and I KNOW the angels will be taking good care of you. PS. God Knows you too.
