“ Greg,
Thank you for everything you've done for the studio. Thank you for sharing your beautiful family with me. I love them. I'll never forget the time you put on the munchkin socks with the other dads and brought my wizard of oz props on and off stage. That's the type of humor you always had and we will always remember the great memories. Rest In Peace. Xo

“ So long my friend –

Summers seemed to last forever, and life was easy when we were little kids. We became great friends in the 4th grade when you moved in next door. It was a bonus when we had the same teachers at Einstein Elementary! You, I and Tug would play for hours – backyard baseball, going for a swim, playing football with your dad as the “All-time QB”, or street hockey when the snow hit. You were always creative, like when we found an old cart in the woods and turned it into the “Shark”– basically a go-cart without an engine or steering wheel! But that didn’t stop us, as a rope and a bike could pull that thing down the road with ease. But you had a better idea – let’s hook it up to a motorcycle and go for a real ride! So that is just what we did – faster and faster we went until we realized the motorcycle had breaks, but we didn’t! When the Shark was barreling full speed ahead and finally hit the end of the rope, the cart came to a sudden and explosive stop, while we were mere projectiles flying out of the cart and into the ditch ahead of us. While I had a look of terror on my face I will always remember your look of amazement when we finally landed in a tangled mess, and your humorous wit stating, “I guess we didn’t think of everything”!

In a blink of an eye we were at Richards Jr. High playing on the basketball team, then on to good old Fraser High school. We remained great friends throughout high school, even though our interests took different paths. You were amazing in the music curriculum, always leading the charge in the classroom and with the Marching band, while I pursued a sports path. And this was actually a blessing as we were able to gain friends from both of these areas. Soon girls took center stage, and high school dances like “Snowball” and “Homecoming” led us on double dates with many great memories. Summers at your cottage were awesome, and the trips into Houghton Lake for putt-putt golf and teen adventures will never be forgotten. Waterskiing and tubing from morning to night were the highlights of the day, with bonfires and smores at night. I am still not sure how you convinced us to jump out of the boat while you were driving at full speed! Summer concerts at Pine Knob were memorable as well, like when we were in a car accident on the way, with the car getting towed away with our cooler smashed in the trunk. However, that did not deter us - we decided to hitchhike with our dates so we would not miss Elton John & Quarterflash! And you and Tug were supposed to back me up when I got home, because it is not easy to tell one’s parents you “totaled” their car 6 hours ago – but as soon as my dad asked what happened, you and Tug were already gone!!

Rooming at Michigan State brought a whole new series of fun adventures. Going to the hockey games, football games, and even sometimes class, it was a great experience. We played all the intermural sports and had a few parties as well. This is where you met your beautiful wife, definitely your greatest accomplishment in those 4 years! During the summers we played softball at Fraser park, bringing home the hardware for many years, and going for beverages at Fazzalari’s & Franks Place to relive the games.

But then life happened... work to do, bills to pay, families to raise. And you and Dawn did great, with three amazing daughters. I know how proud you are of each of them, because whenever I saw you, THEIR highlights were the stories you told with a delighted exuberance. From their early dance careers to excelling in school, you beamed with pride when listing their accomplishments.

Unfortunately, time is a cruel thing, as there is never enough – and our individual priorities took us in different directions. Promises to get together were seldom fulfilled. But always know that the memories we shared will last forever. Although way too young, I believe you are in a better place now. You will be truly missed, my friend.
