“ My condolences to Jackie and family. Joe and I were really good friends growing up in Fairbury and became especially close during our high school years. Such good memories riding around in his awesome Ford with the red leather seats! Jackie, I never got to meet you but felt like I knew you because Joe talked about you all of the time with a twinkle in his eye and such devotion. I feel so fortunate to have had him for a friend.

“ Jackie, Chris, Scott, and all family and friends of Joe,

My deepest condolences to all of you. This is a sad day for all of us who loved Joe.

When I was a child, he was more of an older brother than an uncle. Perhaps that is why to this day Julie, Carla and I have always called him Joey rather than Uncle Joe. I remember the youthful Joey as energetic, smart and mischievous. My mother and Grandma Giancarli told us how, as a boy, he hid under a box on Route 24. This story only confirmed to my childish mind that he was very different than me and the best thing to do was to avoid him as much as possible.

It wasn't until we reached adulthood that the mischievous brother became a treasured family friend and fun-loving companion. Perhaps one of my favorite memories is our first Mad Hatter Croquet Party where Joey showed up in a Viking-type helmet which he had made out of newspaper and cotton balls. I think that was the start of my thinking that I had one really cool uncle.

And so it went from there...golf, travel, more Mad Hatter and family outings through the years. All of us could spend days recounting various special moments that revolve around him. There are many things I will miss about him, but maybe it is his laugh I will remember and miss most of all. He loved to have fun and that infectious laugh of his made us all smile and laugh with him.

Oh, Joe, you will be greatly missed.

Your loving niece, Sylvia

“ Jackie, my dear cousin, I truly share in your loss. Joe loved you and his family so much. You were everything to him and he to you all. We miss him but take comfort knowing he is in the arms of our Lord and Blessed Mother Mary. You, Chris, Annette, Scott, Gillian. and Dominic will be in our prayers and our hearts. We know your grief and are here for you, always. We know you are all in a 'tough' place right now but be kind to yourselves, give yourself all the time you need to heal. Take comfort in all of the good times you've all shared and don't forget all the beautiful memories you made. We pray for comfort for all of you. We love you.

“ Condolences to the Giancarli family. I had the pleasure of knowing Joe since the late 70s at Chrysler. I worked near him, with him and had him as a valued member of my staff during some very critical times for the old Daimler-Chrysler organization. I could always count on him to be there early and work hard all through the day. I also learned that he would be in my office the first day after Christmas break with his vacation schedule for the next year and make sure I understood the he had to have those weeks!!!! He always got them because he deserved to choose first due to his initiative and work ethic.

I also played softball with and against him and learned to NEVER try to block the base path he was "running" (or whatever you called what he was doing) on. I learned that the hard way when he barreled me over once.

He gave me a top 5 piece of advice at Chrysler that I remember to this day. No need to share it but it took a lot of courage for him to give it to me.

I also played some golf with him, but those memories are also best left untold as his once famous temper was frequently involved.

I can only give him my highest accolade. He was indeed a good man.

Hope to see you in heaven, Joe.

Your friend,
