“ So sorry for the loss of your father. We had many fun times together. The video is absolutely beautiful! So sorry we were not able to make it to the funeral home or funeral.

We will keep him in our thoughts and prayers!

“ I always looked forward to our hunting outings at the cabin. Your dad's breakfasts were THE BEST!!! No better way to wake up. :-)

(I think you may have included this in the video, but here's the original)

Love you guys!!!

“ . Samuel Klein”

Mr. Klein, as we called him, was of intimidating stature. He was loud, opinionated and very colorful when expressing a matter. He sugarcoated nothing and always told the truth whether you wanted to hear it or not, the unadulterated truth, ALWAYS. Through this tough exterior, Mr. Klein forged a do or die attitude that has trickled down to his children's lives. Mr. and Mrs. Klein fathered 2 sons, Ron and Robert, both of whom have the same work ethic as their parents, 1st to arrive, leaving only when the job is done.

When we were young, it was always entertaining working on projects with him Upnorth. Spirited debates would always arise on how things should get done. Voices would elevate, tempers would rise, nostrils would flare, veins would bulge. Through all the craziness, the job would get done and at the end of the day, we'd have a good laugh and another solid memory to look back on.

I remember once, as a young teen, for whatever reason, Mr. Klein had to take me to soccer practice. If you've never driven with him, let me tell you about that. High octane, adrenaline rush, gem of an experience. He drove extremely aggressive. I found myself bracing at every turn along the way. It was as if he thought that this was an edition of the future Fast and Furious movies. I came close several times during that ride to soiling myself. Once dropped off, I kissed the ground, thanked our Lord, Jesus Christ and my guardian angel. From the anxiety of the ride, I just wanted to skip practice and go to sleep. FYI, I never drove with him again.

In closing, we all loved Mr. Klein. We all saw through his tough, stubborn demeanor of the act he portrayed. Instead we see the fruits of his labor in the generosity he gave his sons and family.

You will be missed, Mr. Klein.

“ Sam will be missed greatly. Even from when I first met him, he made me feel like a welcome part of the family. During family events he always took the time talk and catch up with a smile on his face. He gave great hugs!! My love and support go out to the Klein family and to all those who had the opportunity to know and love Sam. 💕

“ John and I will always have memories of Sam and his kind regard for us and how we were always doing. We enjoyed spending time with him at our parents home, the German club and up at our it lake house just last year. He and Trudi always made us feel welcome. We will miss him. Our Condolences to all of his family and friends.

“ My hearts go out to the Klein's. I am so sorry for your loss. I always enjoyed my time with Sam and he'd always greet me with a huge hug and ask how everyone in my small family was doing with an arm around my shoulders. Always made you feel like you mattered and he was happy to see you. Goodbyes were very similar. He will be missed.
