“ I tried posting this last night but I don't see it showing so I am doing it again. I was about 14 and I was sitting on my Aunt Tammy's bed watching her get ready for a date. Watching her do her hair and her make up. She was so excited. He was taking her to see Peter Frampton and she was thrilled. The doorbell rings and she jumped up and ran to the door. There was Uncle Chris with his long hair, T-shirt and jeans and off they went. The next day she was floating on cloud nine and she said I am going to marry this guy....and so it began.....He was always the happiest and fun loving guy I ever knew. I was proud to call him my Uncle and he will be greatly missed. Love you Uncle Chris!

“ The first thing that comes to mind is one of the hardest working men that I know. Always on the go and helping everyone anytime you could. Also a great husband and father that loved his family ❤️. Let's not forget, your funny and sarcastic humor. Damn you were quick and witty with a come back. I'm laughing as I write to you, but eyes filled with tears at the same time. You will be missed dearly Uncle Chris ❤️. Love you 🥰🥰, Stacey
