“ I was very fortunate to care for Jennie during the last four years of her life, and that time is something I will always treasure, we shared many special moments- attending weddings, birthday parties, holidays, and enjoying the simple rhythm of our days together. Our mornings began with coffee, and ended with sleepy time tea, along with Jennie’s homemade cookies. We walked a mile nearly everyday, even when the temperature dropped to 17 degrees. Jennie also loved growing Zinnias and was happy to share their seeds. Another favorite pastime of ours was playing cards together each day. Jennie had many family photos and I loved to hear the stories behind them. Some of my favorites were the picture of Jennie sitting on her mother’s sewing machine, the photo of the Mooney men spanning four generations, and the one of her and Dick walking the mall together. Jennie loved to stay busy and took great pride in keeping things in order. Jennie always wanted a projects . Whether it was washing windows, keeping the garage neat, and even painting the garage floor , or power washing the outside of house and garage. Jennie approached everything with energy and determination. One winter project was spent together organizing Jennie’s family photos for her kids and grandchildren. It was one of the best projects, filled with the stories, memories, through the many moments she had carefully saved over the years. Jennie frequently, told me that she had been blessed from the very day she was born. She told me many times how glad she was that I was there with her. I was truly blessed spending time with my friend Jennie. When I tucked Jennie into bed at night, she would sometimes say, I don’t know why I’m still here. God has a plan for me. I just don’t know what it is. I want to go to sleep and wake up on the other side. I find comfort in knowing that Jennie passed peacefully just as she hoped. Pat

“ Jenny was my Godmother. She stood up for my mother's wedding in 1950. My mother and Jenny were best friends. Later on my mother was in a nursing home and Jenny was there almost everyday visiting and bringing her soup and her famous bread for the 7 years she was in there. Jenny and I started going to breakfast and rarely missed a Sunday since 1996. Every time I called her or she called me she would ask if I quit smoking yet. I finally did in 2007, she was so happy. I will miss her very much.

Your Mom was an amazing woman. Always had a positive attitude and smile. We truly enjoyed seeing her every Sunday. She loved her children and grands and greats and was so proud of what she and Dick started. She also told us some "stories" about each of you. Its ok. We wont tell. You all are taking up the legacy of her love and pride. We will miss Jenny. She made it to 100! 101 will be in heaven with Dick and those who have gone before her. What better place to spend it! ❤️
