“I worked for Mr. Lindh 50 plus years ago. A fine man and real gentleman. Deepest sympathy to the family.”

“I'm so sorry for your loss Janet and Bob and your whole family. There was never a better neighbor or a more generous friend then Warren. He and Jane were my parents neighbors for more then 25 years and friends for 50. He was always there to offer a helping hand and many times he was there before we even knew we needed help! When he cut his own lawn he would often cut the most difficult part of our lawn to cut just to be a helpful. Any job my dad needed help with, there was Warren. Just 2 small examples of the many nice things he did for our family. And of course he would brush off any thank yous, he didn't like to be thanked, he was never looking for a pat on back, he just did nice things because he was a genuinely nice person. My parents spent many happy hours with Jane and Warren over the years, I also have many happy memories of spending Christmas Eve at their house. It was mostly a family gathering but they always included us too. There are truly not many men like Warren Lindh, he was a good guy and I'm glad that I had the pleasure of knowing him all these years. God bless and Rest In Peace. Love to the whole family!Keith Somers”

“My grandmother, Irene, who passed away years ago, lived across the street from John, and his late wife, Jane, for many years in West Bloomfield, MI. I never met John or Jane; however, I felt as if I knew John, through the grateful heart of my grandmother, who always spoke so highly of him. She would say that John would help any one in need. She told our family so many stories of how he put others first, and how deeply he cared for, and loved his wife, Jane. John didn't just tell our Lord that he loved Him, like most of us do so often. He showed our Lord that he Loved Him, through his everyday actions. May John & his late wife, Jane, be with Christ, in His Peace, now and for all eternity. And, may John, his spirit, kindness, and example, be remembered by those who remain here on this earth. My sincerest condolences to the Lindh family. Thank you, Mr. John W. Lindh, for your service in life, and for your generous heart and spirit!”

“My thoughts and prayers go out to Bob & Janet, also to the rest of the family. Warren was such a sweet man, I can't imagine anyone meeting him and not seeing the amazing spirit he had. He always had a big smile for everyone. He was one of the last true gentlemen. Rest in peace Warren, you have lived your life to the fullest & left many examples for us to follow.”
