Louis aka "Bronco" loved traveling, hiking, and enjoying the outdoors with his close friends and family. He was an accomplished photographer with an eye for nature scenes. “ Mike, Adam, Marcia and family, Words cannot express how my hearts for you. I remember the first time I met Lou. I was a kid hanging out with Adam and Mike. He seemed so intimidating at first, but then getting to see him became one of the highlights of my visits.

Please know that I hold you all deep in thought during this incredibly difficult time.

“ Lou was my second father. He always welcomed me and was always there to give positive life lessons. He was always someone who I admired and respected.

A single father who was an incredible role model for his kids, he raised two great men! He didn't always have a lot to say but when he did it was always worth listening. I will truly miss you Lou! We'll see you soon!

“ I always sensed in him a very tender heart, one that had been wounded somehow, but through horses he healed a lot. For many Christmases he would sent me a card with him and a horse.

But finding you, Marcia, was a turning point for him with so much more healing and his growth in believing in his great goodness. You got him ready for God, and now Lou is getting ready there a place for you both, where there will be no more "goodbyes." I will miss him; I am still in shock about his passing.

Sorry for your loss. Lou and I go back to the early 70s. Back then he was known as Electric Lou. We camped out in his VW microbus. the one with the magnetic pipe attached to the dashboard. We and the gang traveled to the smokey mountains in the sprig a couple times.

We shared a night at the farm laying in the grass listening to the crickets in stereo. And how about ever growing candle on the barn wood coffee table?

Before I moved to Boston we planned the ultimate trip backpacking in the smokies and flatop mountains Colorado. On a bluff overlooking Pikes peak we shared a total lunar eclipse of the moon at night! One night the tent collapsed from the night snowstorm.

After days without a shower we went to the closest town Craig Co. We asked the store keeper if he knew a place where we could shower? He said no but "your young, go in the steam!" As our heads hit the stream the total numbness of the rockie mountain snow melt made us think about some other way.

That "your young, go in the steam" became a privet joke between us of male virility. There are so many experiences we had together I cant say goodbye, I will just say happy trails to Lou until we meet again.
