“ I just found this and I feel very sad for your loss My dad and your dad/granddad had a terrible falling out back in 1956. When my father died, I did not arrange for a visitation or funeral, but on that day aunt Lucy appeared at the grave site, out of nowhere. She had somehow learned about it. I thought I wanted to be alone, but her being there was like God was sending me a message. We talked and later I visited the family, then it was over. I wish we could have grown up together. love, Marilena

“ Childhood friends and neighbors help shape who we are. I feel that way about the Niespolo family in a good way. I knew Lucy as MRS Niespolo who raised three good sons and took in and cared for an elderly relative.
I would like to share this brief poem with the family.
Our condolences are the least we can say.
For those of us who believe I am sure we will pray.
The only positive is that our found memories of her can never be taken away.
I hope the family can help each other out and get through this difficult time.
Sorry I could not make it

“ Lucy started out as my hair dresser many years ago, and became a dear friend over the years. We had many good times at Harsens Island, and I came to know much of her family there, I always enjoyed going to her Grandson's hockey games with her, and cannot even begin to count all the wonderful times we had. I will miss her very much.

“ I knew Lucy my entire life (she was a dear friend of my Mom's), and you will not find a more loyal friend. Her amazing gift for doing hair and her love of life are memories I will always treasure. I smile when I think of how special and important she made me feel when she cut my hair when I was a little girl and I got to sit in the "grown-up" chair:-) I will miss her very much. Prayers and heartfelt sympathy to the family.
