The video recap of Mark really touched my heart in a special way. Mark was special to all of us and myself especially. He was like an older and wiser brother. He lived his life with honor, love and dedication to his family. He was a remarkable man and I will always remember him and cherish the memories we had together

“ Rest in peace my dear cousin. I am sure there were many there in Heaven to greet you and you are all probably having a big family reunion. You were the strong older cousin who always had the best cars and motor home. My love to Ricky, Bob and Stephanie it's been a rough few weeks.

“Dad,
I couldn't have asked for a better father. You were always there for me. Whether coaching my basketball and baseball teams when I was a kid, to the countless oil changes we did in the garage. I will always be amazed at the things you could do with a set of tools. I take comfort that you have reunited with Eric, Oma, Ota and Grandma. When it is my time, you can introduce me to your Dad/Grandpa. Until then, I will miss you. I love you Dad.

“Mark, was my hero growing up. I was a young boy when Mark went to Viet Nam. My mom and I would sit for hours on our back porch swing listening to Glenn Campbell's album and song Galveston. We would pray for Marks safety and return. He brought us young cousins back cool Viet NAM JACKETS -Maps and even some pictures of the country he went to. Later when I worked with him he only shared some of the things he saw. I didn't pry and Mark didn't dwell. He was tough and when he had that gift of when he talked to you he made you feel you were most important person in the room. I know his older cousins got their share of Charlie horses from him lol-but for Ellen and I he mostly hosted us on his strong shoulders and gave us endless rides. I haven't seen Mark for a few years and that troubles me as he lived so close. I should have taken time to visit him more. My love and prayers go out to Ricky, Robert and Stephanie and the rest of his family , friends and fellow vets. We lost a good man and a better family member. Rest in Peace my dear cousin. Philip

“ *Uncle Mark and Unkie,
We have so many amazing memories that will never be lost or forgotten. You were there for my children while growing up. We will never forget the many projects you did with us- you saying how easy it would be - not for us! May you rest in peace.*
