“ I sincerely offer my condolence on the death of Mary Giordano. Although nobody denies the certainty of death, we all need comfort in the reality of it. May you find real comfort and relief, and as a result, begin to recover gradually from the pain. Love from those around you will help you through the days ahead. You will never forget Patricia. And the memories she left behind. However, even in the face of calamity may you find comfort peace. May you find the relief and blessing at this critical time. What a blessing it will be when we can rightly ask: Death, where is your victory? Death, where is your sting?1 Corinthians 15:55.
