“It's okay to cry in sadness but be happy for me.
It's okay you cry.
Your eyes will cry knowing you won't be able to hug me again.
It's okay to cry.
You will cry because you won't be able to give me your kisses showing you love me.
It's okay to cry.
You will bust into tears because you didn't want me to leave you.
It's okay to cry.
There's going to be some hard times and you will cry for me.
There will be some happy times and you will cry for me.
Times you will daze out thinking how much I was with you all and you will cry together.
I talked to our father about this, pay close attention to this part I told Shaunda to write for me to you.
As long as you walk in faith and not just by sight, God said, I'll will be with you.
I had the body and blood of Christ is in me, therefore I believe and you must believe too.
I cried many days and nights that's why I'm able to say, it was okay to cry.
My beautiful loving kids, grand kids, and family. Do as I asked and what you know I would want to see you do. You all know what that is, each and every one of you.
Now is the time I cry no more. I was tired of crying in pain. The pain is gone away and it's time for me to smile again. This is what I've been waiting for all these days.
Be happy for me and keep making me happy for you.
Remember as long as you trust and believe in God,
I will be with you.
Mama loves you
To my other family from another mother April Bonner James Suzy, out, my Godson Kenny, the baby of all Raymond. To all that knows me and loves Mama Patty. You may not feel this way right now but
