“ Roger, you have touched my heart! I never had the pleasure of helping you along your journey, but reading your story brought tears to my eyes. What an amazing wife you have!! She loves you unconditionally and still wants you to do things you love! Good luck on your travels! Sail on my friend! I can't wait to read all of the places you visit! You have become quite the superstar! And Shannon, you have a special place in my heart as well! I can only hope I have the same unconditional love for my husband. You are amazing!!
