“I just found out today by this obituary that M. Mooney died. I cant tell you how much you changed my life, you put me on the right track, I might be failing in school right now if you hadn't told me the straight truth and let me know that I could do this. I started failing math, you helped. I missed assignments, you helped. I just... cant believe your gone, you will be forever in my heart”

“ Philip...I have waited a couple of days to write in this book. I needed time to collect my thoughts. A couple of days into this, and I can tell you that I am still short on words. At moments such as these there are no logical things one can say to explain why one so young was taken. I can only tell you what you already know which is where Sharon is now there is no suffering... and she will be able to do all the things she once did... I never had the opportunity to meet her in person, but on here she was a daily inspiration to me and so many others and through her journey, she inspired many many others to never give up. That's her message to you and your family as well... NEVER give up... NEVER be derailed for what God wants to use your life for going forward. Sharon... you remain my friend, and I am proud to have met you and shared with you and even prayed for you. Rest well my friend....I shall look forward to meeting you in person.”

“Dear Phil, When I told my relatives in England that my cousin Sharon died, they were crushed. Little did I know, they had been following your Facebook posts for the past year and hoping and praying along with us all. Sharon's fight with cancer and your love for your wife has touched and inspired so many people. I know many of my Fb friends were praying for her, and I am sure that was true for all of your friends and family. There must have been thousands of people from all over the world praying for Sharon's recovery and imploring God to give her more time. He must have REALLY needed her in heaven. They say 'only the good die young'. I believe that to be true because my father was taken so early. I used to comfort myself with the idea that God had a very important role that only he could fill and with the knowledge that we will all be reunited in heaven. I am praying for you, Andrew, Margaret and Rachel to find some peace and comfort. Please lean on the people who love you in the difficult times ahead. Helping you will be a way for us all to honor Sharon as she comforts you from above. She will be holding your hearts while we hold your hands. All my love, Patti”

“Phil, I know Sharon and you, and of course your family have had to struggle for some time. The only thing I can be sure of is that Sharon will still be here in the memory of you all forever, and although nothing anyone can say or do right now can help as much as we'd all like, I suspect Sharon will be watching and now from a wonderful place with no pain, just anticipation for you and your children to be with her again.”
