“Aunt Shy was a force! Growing up, I always loved how she was very vocal and laughing. I watched how she would call people out and interject (or lead) discussions. She had a style and way. I remember my mom was inviting a few people to the house and I specifically asked for her to come. I enjoyed how different she was from my grandmother (who I loved for all her quieter ways) and I think that is why they always had a special connection too. There was a balance. I feel lucky for seeing that, and the different ways to be a woman. She was an inspiration. She will be missed. Lots of love to all the immediate family.”
