“ Dear Rose, To say I am heartbroken for you is an understatement. After time , may the good moments you shared with Steve make you smile as you remember those treasured memories! I will miss seeing your Steve when I came to visit. . He always made me chuckle. I hope you know Rose, you made Steve´s life much better by having a good partner by his side for over 20 years! I love you, Sandy

“ Rose, I am so sorry to hear of Steve passing, and any word at this time are meaningless, but I felt I had to write and try convey the sense of loss my wife Kathy and I feel at this time.

Shortly after my relocation to GKN US from the UK in 2001, I started to work with Steve on the development of some novel Military application. These were both testing and aggressive in uses of GKN components. This program developed a bond between Steve and I witch has endured, even after my retirement from GKN in 2019.

Over the years we have shared some close working experiences and I have always been impressed by his ability to think of new and novel ways to approach problems and his detailed inclusive methods to achieve our targets.

On a more personal note! Steve and I would often chat and compare notes and experiences of life in general and it was uncanny how often we would reach the same conclusions on life, love and the world, since Kathy and I retired to Portugal, we have kept in regular contact and exchanged lots of ideas on farming equipment and land management!

As you can tell, I am not really very good at this! But I will miss Steve dearly! If there is anything I can do, please contact me. cass53.rc@gmail.com

Very best regards Bob Cassell.

“ Rose, I am so terribly sorry to hear of Steve’s passing. I worked with Steve at GKN from the day he started. Hung out together, lost touch and then in the last 7 years or so got reacquainted since we sat so close together. Enjoyed our daily talks about everything... work, you, the dogs, how to fix things... he taught me to YOUTUBE everything! I went to a luncheon today with a bunch of people who used to work at GKN. Nice stories were told about Steve and how he was top notch!!! Sending lots of prayers and love your way!!! He will be missed!!!

“ Even though i didn't work directly with Steve - I found him to be quite the character.
He loved talking about his dog and hunting and always had a way of making you laugh.
Steve will be missed by many. May God give his wife Rose and his family strength and peace as they go through this difficult time.

With hugs,

“ Rose, Laura and I send our most sincere condolences. Steve will be missed. You might recall visiting our house on Lake Oakland one summer when Steve and I sailed off on my Sunfish in a rather stiff breeze. Not long into our journey the rudder broke and we both ended up in the lake. It took a while but we were towed back to shore never to sail together again :)
I always considered Steve a good friend and we spent many trips travelling together at GKN. We always talked of starting our own consulting firm called CSE. Common Sense Engineering. So many of the suppliers we visited didn't use it.

We send our best to your entire family and will remember Steve fondly.

“ I started working with Steve in 2018 and considered him a mentor. We had so many good discussions about work but also life. He was always willing to help. He even offered to help with a home project of mine, painting my backyard fence. He truly cared, making an effort to keep in touch, calling every few weeks to just "check-in" and ask how the family was doing. Last time we talked, he had mentioned he was looking forward to maybe taking a vacation somewhere warm with Rose.

Some of the best advice he offered me when I was stressed about some dilemma, be it work or life's problems was "what good will come of this?" In other words; is this worth getting all worked up about and worrying over? Simple, yet incredibly useful in all situations.

He will be missed by so many.

“ Did not know Steve well until we moved into the new building, I was providing him with some photography presentation and in return I was taught by his knowledge of the product and sometime life lesson. So sad to hear the loss of a dear friend so soon. Wishing Steve's family and friend cherish the laughter and sweet memories he brought.

“ Steve and I go back to the early 1980’s. He was one of the best at his job. He worked in our Ford Business Unit and could always be counted on to get us through any problem of design or drawing. I believe the first time I met him he was at the drafting table in the Southfield office, yes that was before we had CAD. He had just given me some advice on how to get my Beagle puppy back who had fun off chasing a deer into the woods.

“ Steve & I were co-workers, but our professional paths rarely crossed. However, a chance meeting at the copier or (of course) the coffee pot offered an opportunity to chat. I always enjoyed Steve’s very unique outlook on life. One of his wisdoms, I will always remember: "Wouldn’t it be a shame to get a speeding ticket on your way to work?" I think of him often on my morning commute.

Steve was a good guy, and the hearing of his passing has truly made me sad. My sincerest thoughts are with Steve’s family and friends. Please know that Steve touched many people, in Steve’s unique ways.

“ I'm very sorry to hear about Steve. I worked with him all of my GKN life - 30+ years! He always had something to say that would always bring laughter. I will think of him often and always remember the laughs we shared.

I will keep you all in my prayers during this time.

“ It all started when Steve started placing this "brass" bird note holder on my desk at random times during the day...this developed into a hiding of the undesired bird at each others desk. He would hide the bird in random drawers and crooks and nannies in my office and I when I found it would do the same back. You never knew where or when you would find the bird. This game lightened the work place stress and became a way Steve showed his admiration for me as a coworker. I will forever remember Steve and his unwelcome bird.

I am so sorry for the family, may God bless your family in this time of loss!

“ Steve and I worked together for many years through the 90's and had many opportunities to travel together. One of our best memories was after being wined and dined in France, we were tired of the long and fancy meals and traveling to England we decided to look for a simple meal. We ended up getting fish and chips at a local shop and we're served in a paper cone. The thing we remember most was sitting in a brand new Mercedes Benz rental eating $5 fish and chips and laughing at the situation. Know that I have many found memories of Steve and he will be missed.
