“ I love you Suzie. You lifted me up when I was down. Always. Today, whenever I feel sad, I look around and remember your voice and your laughter and think I got this, but, gosh, I wish I still had you. I miss you Suzie. More than you can ever know.

“ I just herd at Christmas this year that I lost a very good old friend. I sent a text at Christmas wishing a Merry Christmas and apologizing about being home for the Harper Cruise and not looking up my good friend. I never not got a response before. I then a few days later talked to a mutual SCS friend and he was shocked that I didn't tell him Suzy had passed. He soon realized he just shocked me. I felt bad that had happened and a while ago and I missed the service. My memories are too many to write. To much fun spanned over 25 years. Boat races ritual. Higgins Lake, many house parties. All the bar fun with Suzy, Amy, Laura and many more. Suzy was lifelong friend and a light that made everybody laugh ! I will miss her !

“ I called her my Suzy Q. I knew she was growing weary but she always talked about us growing old together. Our relationship spanned 36 years, 12 years longer than I have known my husband, 4 years longer than I had my mom, nearly three times as long as I had my dad. Always there, 24/7, 365.

I take comfort in knowing you are healthy and thin in heaven. I pray your spirit will visit me in some form, whether it is in a dream or a true clairvoyant experience because your absence has left a hole in my sole like I have never known.

Thank you for bringing me into the fold of your family. I take comfort in staying in touch with your dad, Steve and your other BFF, Rusty.

I cherish every moment we shared.

Love and light for you, until we meet again.

p.s. give our moms hugs and kisses for me xoxo

I remember the first time we met you showed me love like we were blood. It's not enough space nor time to talk about all the good times, you were a amazing person who supported me thru having my 1st child and just being there.a great boss, and will be truly missed.

“ Suzy, you were a genuinely caring person. Thank you for caring about me enough to throw me a baby shower for my firstborn son. That made me feel special as no one else did that for me. You were definitely one of the funniest people I've ever met. You gave me the name runaway secretary. Thank you for being a confidant. I felt true love from you. You were taken too soon. But I pray for your family may they find comfort in knowing you have no pain and no worries. Rest in Heaven Suzy. I love you.

“ Suzy was my best friend. It is impossible to speak of just one memory because Suzy's spirit, humor, loving ways, and compassion were bigger than life itself!! I know God sent her to me because she has taught me so much over the years which has made me a better person. The only problem is i have so much more to learn, and now she is gone. I am counting on her guidance from above. I know she is in Heaven and she is healthy and saying: "Oh, is this what it is like to be thin!"

Hey Suzy girl, let me know what it is like up there. You know i love you more than my luggage:)

“ Suzy was a joy to have around, always laughing in good spirits. She is remembered with great fondness. God be with all her family at this time of sorrow. In loving memory.

“ Susie and I were friends from grade school days, growing up across the street from each other. I spent many many days and nights at her house. The group of us girls on Grand Lake shared many memories and many hours of fun! Unfortunately as we all grew up and moved away we lost touch but the years and distance does not soften the loss. I am very sad for all of our loss as I sit here tonight remembering the many many things we all did with Susie. I am truly sorry to be living so far away and unable to attend her memorial services. I will be with you all in thought on Friday and praying for your comfort and healing during this time.
