“ What can I say, when I first met you dad you were pretty guarded with me and understandably so. Over the year I love how we got closer. I am going to miss the conversations we had, especially at the holidays. Only regret I have is I should have offered to take you to a NHRA sooner. I suggested to go to a race last Christmas and I loved how your eyes lit up. You said with that big smile, I'll get back with you. Unfortunately you were sick and would not even been able to go. I am a big Nascar fan, but never had been to an NHRA drag race. I wish I could have experienced one with you. I vow I am going to get to one in your honor.
