“ I remember when Turner started working at my complex. He was such a bright, young, kid! He was always smiling and was eager to learn. I couldn't miss his red hair, from down the street. I know I will still be looking for him from time to time, but I know he's with Jesus now! To the parents, you've done such a good job raising him! I pray you guys are surrounded by the body. Jesus is with you guys!

“ I did not know your son, but I extend my deepest sympathy to your family and friends. Looking at his picture, he looks like a young man that anyone would be proud to have him as a son! There truly are no words to express this tragedy and your loss. Matthew 11:28 Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest.

“ Praying for God’s peace, that surpasses all understanding to hover over you all during this challenging time. God is close to the brokenhearted and His love will continue to go out through this young man’s testimony and legacy. Thanking God for his service to the kingdom and his bright light that shined in his life. Jesus is holding him now and so grateful to know that you will be reunited in heaven one day with your son b/c of God’s promise of eternal life. I live in Southern California and learned about your Turner today. I had to stop and steel myself against the thought of your loss, first, before I could breathe. What a beautiful child and such a warm smile. Though I can’t offer any real comfort because I don’t have children and have never been through anything so devastating, I just want to let you know that I am thinking of Turner’s family with love. My understanding is that Turner still has a life It’s just not here, tasks to do, and also a special, beautiful room or home In heaven. I wonder what that room looks like, it’s magnificent to imagine. One day you’ll know. And when I will meet him I will too!
I also heard that the sufferings of this present world are not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed. Hard to imagine what that will be like. Strength and courage to you until then.

“ I wanted to believe that the news wasn't true when my sister (Cathy King) told me today about your son, Laura. I can't imagine the pain you are feeling. My mom and dad found out today as well (Dave and Barb Schmuck). So many platitudes are given at a time like this because it is hard to know what to say to such an unexpected and tragic loss. Just remember this. At least we can be sure to that you'll see him again either when God calls or it is your last breath as well. I want to hug you and your family so tight now. Our family's prayers are with you, and I do hope that God will wrap his loving arms around you all. His hugs are the best. ~Love Edie (Schmuck) Harvey

“ I remember looking at the camera around his neck as I have the same one and thought to myself, oh the pictures I could take with mine. I remember thinking how young the kid in front of me looked and thinking of my daughter in that moment. I never actually met Turner but remember looking at him moments before and as the tragic accident happened. I pray that Turner's family and friends find peace and comfort during this unimaginable time. I pray that the Lord covers them with all of his love and know that whatever the Lord's reason is heaven gained an amazing angel. I can see through all the comments and things I have read about him that he was such a loving and caring young man and his presence on earth will be missed by many. I have not gone one minute since the accident not thinking about and praying for Turner and his family; even before I knew who they were. I know that this young man will be a thought and memory in my mind for the rest of my life. A wonderful soul taken way to soon. I am so so so sorry for the loss to his family and friends.

“ Turner was one special person, friendly, engaging, and always with a smile and a good word. We have known him for years and used to tease him mercilessly when he was younger. (I think he took it well.) As he got into his teen years, he was a good friend and someone you wanted to greet and talk to. He will be sorely missed by all!

“ I remember when Turner would come over our house to hang out with Michael. He was such a joy to have around and very respectful. I'm glad that Mike remained friends after we've moved to Kentucky.

Mike just mentioned the other day how they will always be friends. Even though he's with Jesus, I'm sure Mike will cherish that friendship.

Praying for you all at this difficult time. I know that Jesus is the only one that will help you through this tragedy. Love to you all. The Mitchell family

My thoughts, prayers, sympathy & condolences to your family now and in the days ahead as you navigate through your profound loss & grief of your precious son turner and beloved brother , friend and family member.

I do not personally know turner or your family but i was so saddened and heart broken upon reading and hearing the news as a mother myself.

No parent should have to grieve such a loss and he seemed like an i credible young man a y parent or family would be proud of.

I pray for strength, support

, love and privacy for your family and surely turner will always remain with you in the many beautiful , precious & amazing moments and memories you shared together.

He has taken the love you have so freely given and shown to him with him just as he leaves his love he had with each one of you.

Love never fades and he will continue to live among all of you in each moment and each time you think of him.just by remembering him you honor him and his precious life.

Rest in heavenly peace turner & i am so incredibly sorry for your loss . May time bring peace and healing to each one of you during this most difficult time.

Your light will continue to shine turner and it will always be at its brightest and the flame will never Diminish.

God bless.
